"SMALL TOWN GOSSIP!"
Of the many advantages small towns provide for ideal living conditions, one really remains as an objection to permanent residence in small communities. That objection, and seriously enough, is the prevalence of gossip, vicious, unbecoming and often-time utterly fictitious.
When the idlers, the do-nothings and the socially obsolete town characters develop a new situation pleasing to their all-imaging eye, the tongues begin to wag. That objection, and seriously enough, is the prevalence of gossip, vicious, unbecoming and often-time utterly fictitious.
Just how bits of this most interesting information not started on the ground of the community's more dull intelligence, it is hard to say. But one fact remains, it most certainly spreads and magnifies into beautiful proportions, making mountains out of dust and bums out of respectable citizens.
One of the most effective ways to subvert this petty ganderism is to ignore the confidential confetti and brand the whispered slander for what it is. Finding encouragement in the massacre of personal enemies, these gossipy intruders intrude the privacy of normal families, enlarging their tales of scandal.
It is our responsibility to place the small-town gossip out of reach, where he or she will do no harm. Avoidance of these human reptiles will encourage others to stuff these parrots into glass cages on exhibit, where they can be recognized as common nuisances.

Belle Glade Lions
The Belle Glade Lions met in regular weekly session at the home of Lion Peters, Wednesday noon. Mrs. Harry Peters and Mrs. Kirkland served luncheon to the members and guests, including Lion Frank Boswell and Carmel Salvatore, Pahokee. J. W. Mosley, Jr., of Belle Glade, and L. Ross of Sarasota.
View-president Beckwith presided in the absence of president Larry Nash and appointed a special meeting committee composed of Lions Wilson, Fleming and Carlton to make a report at the next regular meeting.
Program chairman Boyd gave a report on the activities of the National Youth Administration office in which Lions committee is interested.

tion asking them to use their power in securing the camps for Belle Glade.
An advisory meeting of a number of Rotarians and the two members of the Lions club met with Mr. Brown following the regular meeting and decided on a program of action in Belle Glade.
Mr. John Wilson was made chairman of the group and the first regular meeting was called for tonight at the Community Church. Other members of the NYA advisory board of Belle Glade are: J. O. Jamison, Dr. Boyd, J. R. Noller, and Phil Clarke. Projects that may be suggested include a community center for the young people of Belle Glade and establishment of the public library in the community. Local citizens will be sought on the NYA role for several months. Young people are encouraged to attend the meetings and the rotation of the youth center. Other plans are being planned to attract young people to the area. Plans for an outdoor picnic in the park will be held in the near future. Other representatives of various organizations have been asked to attend tonight's meeting and join the advisory board in setting up a permanent NYA program in Belle Glade.
The meeting must be from 7:30 to 9:30 p.m. and is open to all. It is a duty of age and certified by the county welfare agent.

The age for Frothingham, the DFL, is expanding the country. But all that is new about it is the funny name of Frothingham.

OPPOSITION SLACKERS
Evans' ongoing construction of the two-magazine labor camp near Belle Glade apparently dropped plans to obtain an injunction against the projects after the town commission of Belle Glade went on record in favor of the camps at Wednesday's meeting.
Newman T. Miller, West Palm Beach attorney, had been retained by a group of Belle Glade ratepayers opposing the two camps and a petition was circulated for signatures in advance of an injunction proceeding.

Sugar Gets Talked About In Congress
The Florida Everglades sugar industry was at least being talked about in the halls of Congress this week. Senator Charles O. Andrews introduced a bill to exempt all sugar produced from beet or cane in the continental United States from the quota restrictions of the 1937 sugar act.
At the same time, Congressman Pat Cannon now proposes to introduce a measure in the floor of the House before the end of the 1939 session and proposing to triple the state's production quota, which is now about $3,000 tons.
Senator Andrews' bill is in addition to a hearing he will seek before the senate agricultural committee on the joint amendment to permit Florida growers to produce without limit if they do not ask for the quota.
"My amendment is the simplest way of showing the country that Florida, as a cane growing area, should be permitted to produce much sugar as she can, the senator stated."

Dad's a NEW man!
(WE HAVE ELECTRIC WATER HEATING)
Dad comes down to breakfast in a brighter mood now—starts the day right! Why? Because there's plenty of hot water on tap, even if Mom and Sam and Junior beat him to the bathroom. Safe, cheap and automatic, electric service heats all the water you want . . . day or night, good weather or bad. Like electric cooking and refrigeration, it's an essential of the modern home.
